New sheriff begins term

"A new broom sweeps clean," and Madison County has a new sheriff intent on bringing about changes in the operation and effectiveness of the department. Emil Toffant of Madison took the oath of office Friday morning and immediately went to work, as did new County Treasurer Michael Henkhaus of Bethalto and County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, an Edwardsville resident who is starting her second four-year term.

New Circuit Judge William E. Johnson of Glen Carbon assumed his new duties today along with members of the Madison County Board. Re-elected as Madison County regional superintendent of schools Nov. 7, Harold E. "Gene" Briggs of Nameoki Township will begin that new term Aug. 6, 1979.

George Musso, 69, Edwardsville, retired as treasurer after three terms in that office and two as sheriff. John Maeras, 52, Madison, a former treasurer, didn't seek a third sheriff term and his administration staggered to an end with a wave of federal charges against him and others.

Toffant, 64, a former Madison police sergeant and longtime Illinois State Police captain and district commander, wasted no time Friday in making his presence felt. Aiding him are his "Mr. Outside," Fred Bright, and his "Mr. Inside," Ewin Knezevich.

Bright, former East Alton police chief, is director of operations and Knezevich is director of administration. Toffant will be his own spokesman and won't use a public information officer to screen what can be told to the public or suppressed.

Major Robert Rizzi, who had been chief deputy, was assigned to assist in supervising the 3 to 11 p.m. shift of uniform deputies. Captain John Cooper, former field operations chief, to help supervise the 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shift, and Lieutenant Robert Hertz, information officer, to a detective division post.

With Cooper wishing to remain on duty despite a pending trial, Toffant has accepted legal advice that an indictment cannot be viewed as presumption of possible guilt.

Home tax break

Governor James R. Thompson certified legislation Thursday that will provide a maximum homestead exemption of $1,500 for Illinois property taxpayers.

The General Assembly had approved the governor's amendatory veto changes in the legislation, Senate Bill 1790, on Wednesday. The measure is effective immediately.

The cumulative exemption will apply to private dwellings in which the owner resides, based on the "equalized assessed value of each property, beginning with the assessment for 1978 (1979 collection.)"

Sponsors of the measure were Senate

President Thomas C. Hynes, Chicago, Senator Arthur L. Berman, Chicago, and Representative Michael I. Brady, Chicago.

It was estimated that an average Illinois home owner could save up to $100 on his next property tax bill.

After earlier Senate approval, the House voted 158-1 on Wednesday to accept the changes in the measure recommended by the governor. Rep. Brady commented, "This is a significant tax-saving bill for citizens of Illinois. This is for all property taxpayers."

In a related action, the House refused to override Gov. Thompson's veto of another tax relief measure, receiving 79 favorable votes instead of the 107 required. It would have provided partial state rebates on local property taxes.

The Hynes-Berman-Brady bill will exempt home owners from paying real estate taxes on the next $1,500 increase in their home's equalized assessed value. The valuation by law is intended to be one-third of full, fair cash value of a residence.

Officials said that, in effect, the assessment will remain at the 1977 level (1978 collection) until increases exceed the $1,500 figure specified by the new law.

Ebersoldt to retire

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice announced today his intention of resigning on or before the first of the year due to medical reasons. Ebersoldt is currently in Christian Hospital Northeast, Room 1009, St. Louis, with a diabetic condition and has been placed on insulin. He expects to return home the latter part of this week.

"I am under the doctor's orders and have been told quite plainly to slow down. I have been in public life for many years, and I will help whoever replaces me," the mayor commented. "By stepping down, this will allow time for an election in April. And in the meantime, the aldermen can appoint from within their ranks a mayor pro tem."

"I am going to be 69 in May, and I intend to relax and enjoy my family and friends," Ebersoldt told the Press-Record today.

When Clerk Walter R. Canner died in October 1954, Ebersoldt was chosen as city clerk, holding that post continuously until being elected mayor in April 1974 following the death of longtime Mayor John E. Lee Jr.

Ebersoldt, who also has held the presidency of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, was re-elected as mayor in April 1977.

VENICE MAYOR WILLIAM EBERSOLDT

Public defrauded, text of indictment asserts

In light of a new superseding indictment against former Madison County Sheriff John Maeras and Deputy John Cooper, Maeras' former chief of field operations, the Dec. 11 trial date for the two is likely to be postponed, sources indicated.

U.S. District Judge Waldo Ackerman planned to hold a "conference call" by telephone with the involved parties to discuss the new indictment and upcoming trial. Maeras, Cooper and Leland L. Stoller, who conducted fund-raising dances and promotions for the sheriff's deputies' association, were named in a new indictment issued Wednesday by a federal grand jury in Springfield. The text of the new indictment appears on Page 23 of today's issue.

While the new indictment is intended to replace an Oct. 27 indictment against Maeras and Cooper, the original indictment remains in effect pending action by Ackerman on a motion to dismiss it. That is expected to be one of the topics discussed in today's conference call with attorneys for Maeras, Cooper and Stoller.

Arraignment on the new indictment is scheduled for Friday in Springfield. A Dec. 11 trial is unlikely, since defense attorneys have not had an opportunity to request copies of government evidence and other documents related to the new allegations. Ackerman is expected to arrange a hearing date for later this month at which new pre-trial motions can be heard.

The new 17-page indictment alleges 26 counts against Maeras and Cooper, including conspiracy to commit a pattern of racketeering activities, devising a scheme to defraud the citizens of Madison County and the deputies' association, mail fraud, wire fraud, submitting false statements to the Internal Revenue Service and obstruction of justice. Stoller is named in 21 counts of the indictment alleging he and his firm, Lee Stoller Enterprises, were involved in the conspiracy in which donations to the deputies' association were misdirected and only a small percentage reached the association for charitable uses.

The indictment, obtained by the Press-Record in Springfield Thursday from U.S. Attorney Gerald D. Fines, alleges that Maeras was to receive 10 percent of everything raised for the Madison County Deputies' Association "as a kickback."

However, the document alleges, Cooper and Lt. Gary Lee Burns "would and did convert to their own use a portion of the kickback money intended for defendant John Maeras."

Bus fare still 25¢

Instead of going into effect today, a proposed bus fare hike has been postponed at least until Jan. 15.

Meeting late Friday afternoon, the Bi-State Development Agency board decided to retain the present 25-cent bus fare during a "cooling-off period" in which public officials will be consulted on the transit system's projected 1978-79 deficit of $5 million.

No increase has been scheduled in the City of St. Louis, where the municipality has released about $2 million in additional subsidies from its half-cent-a-dollar transportation sales tax.

A 15-cent increase to a 40-cent fare had been scheduled for today in St. Louis County, where another $1,400,000 in sales taxes is being requested, and in Illinois, where the General Assembly is being asked to appropriate another $1,800,000.

After long discussion, Bi-State commissioners agreed to a 45-day delay (Continued on Page 3)

McKINLEY BRIDGE IMPROVEMENT. A worker for the J. S. Alberici Co. spreads concrete around a storm sewer manhole Monday near the east approach of the bridge. In the right background are the toll booths and canopy. The pavement was replaced after an island was removed which was used to direct truck traffic to Main Street. The island was removed to aid drivers in maneuvering their extra-wide and sometimes high loads around the toll booth area through a movable guardrail. Such loads require the detour around the booths as the width between any two of the booths restricts other than normal loads from going through the toll lanes.

McNicholas — Pope knows local diocese

By ANDY LINDSTROM

Springfield Bureau
Pope John Paul II not only loves the people of the Springfield Diocese, but the spiritual leader of the world's 700 million Catholics even knows where it is, Bishop Joseph McNicholas has commented.

"I pointed it out on a map of the United States that the Holy Father had spread in front of him," said McNicholas after his recent private audience with the newly elected Pope.

"I was in Rome for a meeting of the Midwest region bishops of the United States and for the five-year report to the Holy Father. Pope John Paul was to have an audience with 19 bishops from the Midwest and South, but I had no idea I'd see him alone."

McNicholas' audience lasted about 15 minutes, during which time he explained that the Springfield Diocese is midway between St. Louis and Chicago. "The Holy Father knew about us quite well," he said. "He had been to St. Louis in 1969 and to Chicago in 1976."

"We met in 1976 at the Eucharistic Congress in Philadelphia. At that time, he was Cardinal Karol Wojtyla of Krakow, Poland, and he has cultivated many friends in the United States over the years."

McNicholas said that the pope speaks English fluently. "Not only does he speak English very well," the bishop said, "some say he speaks Italian better than most natives."

"He is every bit as vibrant and dynamic in person as he appears to be in public appearances." During the private meeting McNicholas asked the pope if he had a special message for the Springfield Diocese.

"He answered, 'I certainly do. Tell them I love them and extend my Apostolic Blessings. Ask them to pray for the pope and I shall pray for them. Especially greet the families of your diocese. Family life is so important.'"

McNicholas flew to Rome on short notice Nov. 9, when he learned that an audience with the new pope was possible. "I was surprised and gratified by the enthusiasm of the Italian people for this first non-Italian pope in more than four centuries," the bishop said.

"At a public audience in the Vatican, just before our visit, he came right down the center aisle like a politician in a parade, walking from side to side and greeting the people. 'It was a real break with the former practice of entering in a chair carried by porters.'"

"The Italian people showed tremendous warmth for him and seem to accept him as an excellent choice to head the church."

McNicholas said that Pope John Paul is a close friend of many American cardinals, and that visits between church leaders of the two countries are frequent.

"It is not uncommon for 150,000 Poles to attend Catholic celebrations in Warsaw and Krakow with American churchmen taking part," McNicholas said.

"It demonstrates to the Communists that the Polish Catholic Church has many friends outside the Iron Curtain, and it is proof

Hearing Tests Set For Senior Citizens

Granite City — Electronic hearing tests will be given at the new Beltone Hearing Aid Service branch office every Wednesday from 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Factory-trained Hearing Aid Specialists will be at this branch office at Skott's Jewelry & Card Shop, 1304 Niedringhaus, Granite City, to perform the tests.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to have a test using the latest electronic equipment to determine if his loss is one which can be helped. Some of the causes of hearing loss will be explained, and diagrams of how the ear works will be shown.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out whether the latest method of hearing correction can help them hear better.

The free hearing tests will be given every Wednesday from 10:00 p.m. at Skott's Jewelry & Card Shop, 1304 Niedringhaus, Granite City. If you can't get there on Wednesday, call 876-6414 and arrange for an appointment at another time. In-home testing is also available.

Pottery sale

Ceramic art students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold their annual Christmas pottery sale Dec. 8, 9 and 10 at Gent's Plumbing in Edwardsville, according to Don Davis, chairman of the department of art and design.

The sale will be from noon until 8 p.m. Friday, Dec. 8; from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 9; and from noon until 8 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 10.

Mugs, casseroles, pitchers, covered jars, storage and canister sets, vases, flower pots and pieces of ceramic sculpture will be offered.

The pottery sale is sponsored by the Wagner Pottery Association, a student organization at the university.

Funds will be used in a variety of ways, Davis said; bringing visiting artists to the campus for lectures and workshops; supporting student scholarship funds; and purchasing equipment and materials not normally funded by the department.

Profits from the sale also will allow students to participate in educational conferences and workshops at other institutions.

New Sheriff

with U.S. Attorney Gerald Pines and with Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas Bryon, Toffant has said he hopes to expand the Sheriff's Merit Commission and to increase its role in hiring and other personnel matters.

Outgoing Sheriff Maeras declined comment Thursday on last week's indictment of himself, Cooper, Leland Stoller and Lee Stoller Enterprises.

County Board Member Daniel Partney said indictments related to the former Deputy Sheriff Association come as no surprise in view of documents that had disclosed large receipts by the group. "I won't push anyone for a county investigation. I think the new sheriff can clean up the rest."

Each of the three officials sworn into office Friday thanked those who had helped in their campaigns and introduced family members.

Miss Bowles accepted her certificate of office from her predecessor, Miss Eulalia Holtz, who has continued as an assistant despite a chronic illness. The latter praised the county clerk for a "superb job" as clerk and also for being a "super-duper nurse" who has spent time caring for her. "If it weren't for Evelyn, I couldn't be here today," Miss Holtz commented.

Henkhaus said he will reorganize the treasurer's office during the next six weeks.

Bus fare

after a 90-day wait had been suggested by James M. O'Flynn, president of the Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

He urged that all "evaluate the situation without the pressure of an impending crisis, and come up with an equitable answer to the differences."

St. Louis County Supervisor Gene McNary has criticized the caliber and volume of bus service. After the fare hike was voted, he called for the county to end its bus subsidy entirely. A county council vote on the cutoff proposal is set for Dec. 14.

A motion by John Brawley to postpone a fire change to Feb. 15 was rejected by the Bi-State board, James S. Nations noted that the agency might run out of money in January, and his Jan. 15 postponement plan was approved.

O'Flynn called public transit vital and cited statistics that seven percent of those in the metropolitan area are dependent on its availability. He said he will attempt to bring together persons who may be able to find a financial solution.

Student pilot is found dead

A 19-year-old pilot, missing for the last two months, has been found 37 miles from Lexington, Tenn. James Baranowski, a student pilot flying a Cessna 152, had been missing since early on the morning of Oct. 1 when he left the Lexington airport in inclement weather.

Although college rules require the filing of a flight plan by all students pilots, Baranowski had not filed such a plan after taking off from Lexington.

FAA officials said he apparently decided that the weather was too bad for a flight and had turned back to Lexington when he struck the side of a hill in the densely wooded Tennessee region. There was no apparent malfunction of the airplane.

The plane was spotted during routine FAA flights on Nov. 24. A Civil Air Patrol contingent of ten planes had searched the pine-covered hills for ten days at the time the pilot was reported missing, being joined by two dozen private pilots on weekends.

At the time the search was called off, FAA officials indicated the plane would probably be located after leaves had fallen from the trees. There was little doubt that the plane had crashed, since the pilot was known to have only about 1 1/2 hours' fuel left on take off.

Public defrauded

deputies' fund, to be used for charitable purposes.

However, a check of the association's ledger sheet from July 1, 1974 to June 30, 1975, shows that of $105,227 raised in that year, only $9,529 went to the association, which is only about nine percent.

Other deductions, after Stoller's 75 percent, included costs for telephones, postage, a $2,810 salary and miscellaneous expenses. The trial is likely to shed additional light on some of the expenses from that fund.

The indictment also alleges that Maeras, Cooper, Stoller and Lee Stoller Enterprises, Inc., conspired "to conduct and participate in the conduct of the affairs of the racketeering enterprise through a pattern of racketeering activity . . . through multiple acts of: (a) bribery . . . which is an offense punishable by imprisonment for more than one year; (b) interference with interstate commerce by extortion . . . mail fraud . . . and (d) wire fraud . . ."

It alleges the activities of the conspiracy between Maeras, Cooper and Stoller deprived citizens of Madison County "of their right to have the administration of the business and affairs of the Madison County Sheriff's Department conducted honestly, impartially, free from deceit, craft, trickery, corruption, bribery, extortion, conflict of interest and unlawful obstruction and impairment."

It also allegedly deprived the county and its citizens, according to the indictment, "of their right to the conscientious, loyal, faithful, disinterested and unbiased services, activities, actions and performance of official duties" by Maeras, Cooper and Burns in a sheriff's office that ought to be "free from corruption, partiality, willful omission, bias, dishonesty, bribery, extortion, official misconduct, conflict of interest and fraud."

Also defrauded by the conspiracy, according to the indictment, were the members of the deputies' association and those who contributed to dances, Christmas baskets and other association activities believing the money was to be used for charity.

Unlawful use of telephones during the scheme also was alleged, including interstate violations from calls to Missouri to solicit funds.

In addition to the charges dealing with the deputies' association activities and kickbacks, the new indictment repeats allegations against Maeras and Cooper from the first indictment, alleging they conspired with Ronald Grzywacz, former Madison policeman and alderman, to receive kickbacks from two truck operators, taverns, houses of prostitution and service stations in return for official favors.

Also repeated are allegations Maeras and Cooper submitted a fraudulent statement March 28, 1974, to the Internal Revenue Service in a letter indicating Grzywacz had conducted an investigation for Maeras into alleged kickbacks to deputies.

It charges that Maeras and Cooper also induced Grzywacz to lie to the IRS, and that Cooper lied to the same authorities about the investigation for Maeras.

Maeras and Cooper are charged in the indictment with persuading Burns to lie before a federal grand jury. Burns since has pleaded guilty to perjury and is to receive only a six-month jail term in return for full testimony against Maeras and Cooper.

Sentencing of Burns was scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 29, but has been postponed for at least two weeks.

Another deputy expected to testify at the trial is Detective Larry Bull, 29, Collinsville, who resigned last week from the department in return for the dismissal of unrelated charges of theft and arson against him.

Bull was indicted in September 1977 for theft for allegedly receiving television sets stolen from Bert's Audio-TV in Granite City during the summer of 1977. Later he was charged with arson for allegedly burning his wife's auto to defraud an insurance company.

A jury hearing the theft case split 11-1 in favor of conviction, so a mistrial was declared. Due to the age of the evidence, prosecutors agreed to drop charges in return for his resignation from the sheriff's department.

Bull was among the witnesses at the trial of Grzywacz and former Madison police officers Richard Krieschok and Edward Goclan. The three were found guilty this July of racketeering and perjury by a federal jury and are free while appeals are pending.

Grzywacz has been sentenced to serve 12 years in prison and Goclan and Krieschok were ordered to serve three years each in prison. The three were convicted of accepting money and favors from the owners of taverns housing prostitution and taverns wishing to stay open after closing hours.

U.S. Attorney Fines told the Press-Record Thursday that the federal investigation into various Madison County governmental units and operations "is an ongoing investigation."

He declined to comment whether purchases here are among the items yet to be considered by a grand jury. In July 1977, federal authorities subpoenaed city records into purchasing and service contracts for street and sewer purposes between January 1970 and the time the records were seized. City Clerk Robert W. Stevens has confirmed that the records remain in the hands of federal authorities. There has been no apparent activity recently, either by the FBI or by a grand jury.

Snow routes, lack of salt winter problems for city

Granite City residents living on snow routes should be warned now that their cars will be towed, away from the routes, if they do not clear the snow route streets in periods of heavy snow, City Council members agreed during their regular meeting last week.

"It's a matter of letting the people know about it, and there's nothing we can do about it except let the people know what will happen," Alderman Gerald Marmey of the Sixth Ward told the aldermen.

An ordinance establishing snow routes for salt purchases was enacted a year ago and this is the first full winter season it will be in effect.

The ordinance provides that the street superintendent may declare a snow "emergency" at any time it appears that snow plows must be used and other street clearance activity undertaken to keep traffic moving.

Alderman Warren Decatur suggested that "We go ahead and use the $25,000 and buy what we can at the inflated price."

Brewer said he was "pretty sure" he could acquire some salt at the price requested by dealers. Coleman, who is a member of the street and alley committee, instructed Brewer to get some price quotations and report them back to the council in his Dec. 19 council session.

tacted the city of Alton which was able to secure a load of salt, but learned that city had ordered its salt last February.

"Then perhaps we had better start thinking about ordering now for next winter," Alderman Ronald Coleman said.

Brewer said the city appropriated $25,000 for salt purchases, but has received no bids on two separate occasions in which the city advertise for salt bids. In addition, Brewer noted, he had written letters to five firms from which the city has salt taken in the past, and said he was informed none of them was interested in bidding.

I am sure we can buy salt at an inflated price, but no one is interested in bidding," he said.

Brewer said the city needs 400 tons of salt, but that to get it the city will have to pay the "going rate" of $18 to $20 a ton.

Valuation loss to hike aid if fully funded

By TULLY A. HUEBNER
Director of Business Affairs
Granite City Schools

As a result of the election on Nov. 7, personal property taxes on corporations are to be removed from tax rolls as of Jan. 1, 1979. There is some question at this point as to whether this will be effective on levies filed prior to that time, or for the following year.

Regardless, it is the responsibility of the legislature to provide monies through other sources which the city has lost as a result of the taxing bodies. The following are estimates as to how this change can affect our school district.

In 1977, actual assessed valuation was $222,024,091. Of that amount, $72,304,075 is listed as personal property assessed valuation.

When this amount is deducted, it would revise our assessed valuation downward to $150,720,016. These amounts are based upon our school district valuations on which tax extensions were made.

Below is a chart showing our main operating fund — Education, Building and Transportation, with the amount that was extended, based on the actual assessed valuation, and showing the tax rate. Also shown is the same tax rate applied to the assessed valuation that includes the loss of $72,304,075.

As you can see by the chart, while the taxes in these three funds remain the same, the loss in revenue to our school district would be $2,201,688.

As mentioned above, this loss in revenue is supposed to be made up through action yet to be taken by the legislature during this fall session. You can see what effect this will have on our school district if our source for revenue is not replaced.

We have also taken the state aid formula, as it currently exists, and for next year computed the formula using the 1977 assessed valuation, and then using the 1977 assessed valuation less the loss from the recent change in the personal property taxes.

Without any changes, the formula would provide an additional $2,046,204 more with the smaller assessed valuation. This would still leave us approximately $200,000 less revenues.

In 1980, using the same formula, the increase would be $2,281,838 with the lower assessed valuation; however, the school district would still receive $911,299 less than received the previous year.

Currently, revision of the state aid formula is being studied; the effect of any revisions which would be made for our school district is unknown.

This year, the state aid formula is being fully funded for the first time in the past four years.

It seems unrealistic to believe that, with this additional cost from throughout the state, we could expect full funding by the state.

It is imperative for continued operation of our school district that the legislature arrive at a source for replacing this lost taxing base.

If this loss in revenue is not replaced, and if there are long delays in receiving revenues due to lawsuits and court cases, one can readily see that we would not have enough money to operate our schools for a complete year.

Effect of loss of the corporate personal property tax from the assessed valuation:

Education Fund at $2.55 rate, $5,916,614 tax extension changed to $4,072,860, a decrease of $1,843,754 in revenue. Building Fund at 37.5 cents per $100 valuation, $670,090 extension changed to $598,950, a drop of $71,140.

Transportation Fund at 12 cents, $278,428 extension changed to $191,644, a decrease of $86,784.

Total of the three funds, $7,065,132 extension reduced to $4,863,474, a difference of $2,201,658. Projected state aid revenues under the current state aid formula — 1979-80, $10,036,342 with actual assessed valuation of $12,082,946 and adjusted valuation, 1980-81 school year, $8,899,499 aid with present assessment total of $11,171,337 with an adjusted tax base.

'Harry Bear' event still set Dec. 30

A benefit dinner-dance arranged some time ago to help a seriously ill man still will take place Saturday, Dec. 30, although the beneficiary died Dec. 4.

Funds raised through the event will be designated for the family of Harry "Harry Bear" Westwood, 49, of 1925 Rhodes St., Madison.

Mr. Westwood, a member of the Granite City Steel, was an active citizen band radio operator and member of the Filippians CB Club.

The dinner-dance is being sponsored by the new Metro-East Council of CB Clubs as its first endeavor.

"Harry had 14 children and did so much to help any young person with problems," Mrs. Jerry Townsend, chairman of the benefit, said Friday. "So we are going to go ahead with the benefit and present the proceeds to Harry's family."

Mr. Westwood had five sons and daughters and nine stepchildren. The benefit will take place Dec. 30 at St. Mary's Engelbert Hall, 1001 Street and Washington Avenue, Madison, starting with a smorgasbord dinner at 6 p.m.

Admission will be by ticket only and no one under 19 years of age will be admitted.

Tickets, costing $6.40 each, may be obtained before Dec. 15 by calling Mrs. Townsend at 797-0498.

Special entertainment will be provided by the Male Delivery barbershop quartet.

Music for dancing will be by the Country Styles Band, a five-piece group that plays all types of music.

Many gifts have been donated for presentation at the dance, the chairman said.

250 attend Maeras party

Approximately 250 well wishers attended a retirement party for former Madison County Sheriff John Maeras.

The affair was held in the Agriculture Law Meeting Thursday. Agriculture Law Update is the topic of a meeting scheduled for Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Extension Office meeting room located in the basement of the Farm Bureau Building, 900 Hillsboro, Edwardsville.

The program will be presented over the University of Illinois Telenet system. Don Ezzell, U. of I. agricultural law specialist, will cover new laws affecting agriculture. Gene Plocher, Highland, is chairman of the Extension Farm Management Committee planning the program.

Madison Firemen's hall Saturday evening. Food and refreshments were catered by Charlie's Restaurant.

The official form of the evening was a brief speech by Mayor a Mike Sasek of Madison, praising the former sheriff, followed by a short "thank you" by Maeras.

Maeras retired from the sheriff's position on Friday after serving two four year terms. He chose not to run for re-election.

'Healthy back' program at 'Y'

The Tri-City Area YMCA has announced that a "Y's Way to a Healthy Back" program will start Monday, Jan. 8.

The Y's Way to a Healthy Back is a special exercise program for people who suffer back pain and discomfort.

It is estimated that seven million Americans suffer from this malady at any one given time, Edward Mercer, physical director, said.

The program is an integral part of the YMCA's Nationwide Cardiovascular Health Program. It has its own national committee of medical consultants who set policies and guidelines for program operation. It also establishes and monitors program content of workshops that are held for the purpose of training YMCA personnel in conducting instructional classes at local YMCA's.

The YMCA has 19 instructor-trainers located around the country to assist in the training process and in the national implementation of the program.

There are six major differences between the YMCA program and others offered to the American public, Mercer said. These are:

1. The 'Y' uses the six items Kraus-Weber test to assess minimum muscular strength and flexibility of key postural muscles.
2. This program stresses relaxation.
3. The program is progressive—there are exercises at the very beginning (about 10 minutes). Exercises are added weekly and by the end of the six-week program participants will be performing 35 exercises (about 45 minutes).
4. The program avoids multi-repetition of exercises thus eliminating muscular soreness and stiffness.
5. The program incorporates three distinct patterns of exercise involving relaxation, gentle muscle toning and muscle stretching.
6. The exercises are conducted in classes which are limited to 15 participants.

The Y's Way to a Healthy Back program is a six-week program offered at many YMCA's throughout the United States. The class meets twice weekly at the 'Y' and each participant is given exercise assignments to do at home on days when the class is not exercising at the 'Y'. Participants are instructed not to do exercises other than those taught in class and to do the exercises precisely as taught.

Because exactness of doing these properly is important to obtain relief of back pain, all classes are limited to 15 participants so that the instructor can personally supervise and observe each participant, Mercer noted.

The New York State Journal of Medicine in its August 1977 issue published the results of data from 19 YMCA's throughout the country which shows that 88 percent of the 421 subjects involved in the six-week YMCA program obtained relief.

Data that continues to flow in to the national headquarters gives every indication of the same success rate. Copies of this reprint are available for 35 cents each (including postage), by writing: YMCA Healthy Back Program, 3000 La Selva, San Mateo, CA 94403, the director said.

College boards seeking to cope with cost trends

Belleville Area College students joined more than fifty percent of the state's other community college students in paying higher tuition this fall. But BAC tuition is still at the state's median for community colleges.

According to a report by the Illinois Community College Trustees Association, one out of every four public community college districts in Illinois has higher tuition this year.

The Trustees Association said the colleges were forced to increase tuition to keep up with the rising cost of goods, services and employees' pay.

Ten schools from all parts of the state increased their tuition an average of 19 percent. BAC's increase was 18 percent.

The tuition increases affect more than 168,000 students.

The 10 colleges enroll 50 percent of the student in Illinois public community colleges. And this is 33 percent of all students in Illinois public higher education.

Tuition and fees in Illinois community colleges this year range from a high of $21 per semester hour at Black Hawk College in Moline to a low of $4.22 per semester hour at Illinois Eastern College in Olney.

Belleville Area College's tuition is $13 per semester hour.

"Each year, several Illinois community colleges are forced to raise tuition," said David Viar, executive director of the Trustees Association.

"This happens as the boards look at increased costs and reluctantly decide that they must pass approximately 83 percent of all back pain is attributed to a combination of muscular-skeletal deficiencies and stress and, only a small percentage of back pain is caused by pathologies.

The program does not require the use of large space and can be conducted outside the YMCA building. Several corporations have 'Y' instructors conducting this program for employees on company premises with remarkable success. Some of these companies are AT&T, Kaiser Steel, American Optical Company.

on some of that increase to the students who are the beneficiaries of the education provided."

"The Illinois Board of Higher Education, the legislature, and the state governor generally set the direction which senior universities will take regarding tuition increases. However, the community colleges are governed by locally-elected boards of trustees which are responsible for making the tuition decisions at their institutions."

"Some of these boards had to increase tuition to insure that their institutions remain fiscally sound," Viar said.

Community colleges are funded by a combination of tuition, local property tax revenues, and grants from state appropriations.

Belleville's 16-cent local property tax rate is lower than the state's median 19-cent rate for community colleges.

"In our discussions of the state funding formula for next year, we will stress to the legislators that a majority of our students faced a tuition increase this year," Viar said.

"The students value community college education and increasing sacrifice more to obtain this education. We will press the need for continued support from the legislature and governor to meet the ever-rising cost of higher education," he emphasized.

Henry Keil, 74, of 102 E. Summit, Chelsea, Mich., formerly of the Quad-Cities, died Thursday at the Chelsea County Hospital. He was born in Mitchell and while residing in this area, was employed as a locomotive engineer by the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad until he retired.

Mr. Keil was a member of Granite City Moose Lodge 272. His wife, Mrs. Grace Keil, died July 8, 1977.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Ralph (Bonnie) Erskine of Chelsea, Mich.; a sister, Mrs. Grace Roberts of Los Angeles, Calif.; five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

He has been brought here for services tomorrow. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

WOMAN ASSAULTED

Leonette Boker, Pocahontas, Ill., told police last week that a man assaulted her while she was replacing the battery in her auto, stalled in the 1300 block of Kirkpatrick Homes. She said the man hit her, pushed her down and slammed the back of her head on the concrete. She had no visible injuries, but went to St. Elizabeth Hospital for examination.

STATION FIRE

Fire in a restroom at the Clark service station, 20th Street and Madison Avenue, caused minor fire last week. Authorities believe a room deodorizer was set on fire by a vandal. An attendant extinguished the fire once, but the unit re-ignited and firemen had to put it out.

Cloning meeting

Possible cloning, recombinant DNA and other "promises and problems in genetic engineering" will be open for discussion by an Oak Ridge scientist visiting Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Thursday.

Alfred McFee, professor at the University of Tennessee and the Comparative Animal Research Laboratory at Oak Ridge, will speak at 4 p.m. in Room 3114 of the Science Building.

McFee, who earned a doctoral degree in animal breeding at Cornell University in 1963, works with large animals at Oak Ridge to determine possible mutations or genetic effects from energy-related pollutants. He also has studied the effects of radiation on chromosomes and the effects of radiation on embryo development.

Open to the public, the program is sponsored by the departments of chemistry and biological sciences at SIUE and the chapter of Sigma Xi, the national scientific research society which promotes research and public understanding of science.

Refreshments will be served at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, before the program, on the third floor balcony of the Science Building.

Venice program to aid special pre-schoolers

The Venice School Board last week hired Jane Y. Hyten of Edwardsville a pre-school special education teacher, whose salary will be fully reimbursable under the Federal Aid to the Handicapped program.

Mrs. Hyten, 30, will work 2½ days a week in the Venice School District and 2½ days with the Women, Infants and Children's (WIC) and Mediched programs, whose offices are located at the Coordinated Youth Services in Granite City.

Her starting salary is $9,000 annually, the same as a beginning teacher in the Venice District. Head Basketball Coach Ken Perkins of Venice was given permission to re-establish a Lettermen's Club at Venice High School and to serve as its faculty sponsor.

Supt. of Schools Robert N. Vickers recommended that the proposal be accepted by the board and said membership will be open to all students who have earned letters.

Primary function of the group will be to help the varsity athletic program, he said. Venice had a similar club until four or five years ago.

Board members agreed to set up an account for the club in the district's activity fund.

Supt. Vickers was granted permission to accept an appointment to an evaluation and review team being formed by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools which will be assigned to the Madison School District April 25, 26 and 27.

It was noted that Friday was the final working day of Ron Brawley, a high school custodian, who has resigned.

The Rev. Richard Bailey, personnel committee chairman for the board, was asked to investigate a possible replacement for Brawley through the Win or Manpower programs. The superintendent was authorized to assign faculty members on a rotating basis and according to seniority to work at home basketball games.

High school faculty members will be assigned to high school games and grade school teachers to games at that level. A $10 fee is paid to teachers working at a game.

A lack of faculty sponsor for the grade school cheerleaders' squad is causing problems and Supt. Vickers asked the board to allow a teacher's aide to fill the extracurricular job. The aide will receive a $175 fee, the same as a faculty sponsor in the past.

Mrs. Betty Wallace, a cook at Venice-Lincoln Technical School Center, was granted a six-month leave of absence, subject to possible early return.

A bid was accepted from Bannan Educational Systems, Inc. Overland

Pontoon Lions sponsor new Boy Scouts troop

The Lions Club of Pontoon Beach has decided to sponsor a Boy Scout Troop after hearing a presentation by Cahokia Mound Council District Executive Ned Freeman of the Uniwahl (Quad-Cities) District.

Freeman made his presentation as guest speaker at the Pontoon Beach Lions regular club dinner meeting last week at the Lions Den in Pontoon Beach.

The Pontoon Beach-Nameoki Township office of Co-Ordinated Youth Services will co-sponsor the new scout troop, along with the Lions Club.

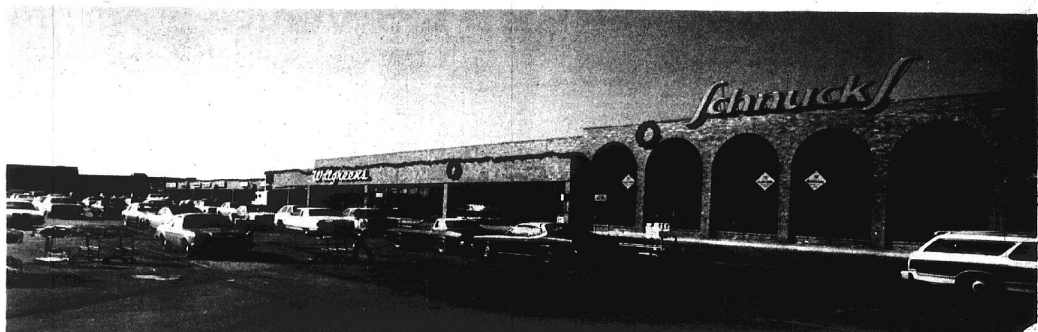

"The world's largest service organization, Lions International, has been in partnership for 50 years with Scouting, the world's largest youth movement. Both are committed to brotherhood and service on an international basis."

The Scout slogan "Do a Good Turn Daily" and the Lions motto "We Serve" have almost identical meaning," Freeman told the Lions.

"Lions Clubs are the largest single sponsor of Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers in America," Freeman added.

The Lions voted to let the new scout troop use the Lions Den, 4070 Gaslight Walk, on Wednesday nights, as their meeting place.

Pontoon Beach Lions Club President Larry J. McKee said that any local area boys, ages 11 through 15, who are interested in joining the new troop may contact the Pontoon Beach-Nameoki Township office of Co-Ordinated Youth Services at 931-2700 or the Cahokia Mounds Scout office at 876-0686.

Historic canals Travelers' topic

By ALFRED E. KRUMSIEK

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Stoeber gave an illustrated lecture, which they entitled, "The Three Canals," at last week's meeting of Travelers Abroad.

Beginning with Cartagena, on the Caribbean coast of Colombia, the Stoebers showed pictures of this old walled city founded by the Spaniards in the 16th century.

Lying on a sandy peninsula, Cartagena presents the usual Latin American contrast between the historic and the modern. The city, where the population is composed largely of Negroes and Mestizos and the temperature averages 82 degrees, and ostentatious wealth on the nearby Turbaco Hills, where the wealthy people dwell and the temperature is much lower.

The old city is enclosed by a heavy wall, in some places 40 feet thick, and is defended by several formidable looking forts which have long since been dismantled but are still in a good state of preservation.

Cartagena was once the headquarters of all South America. The harbor, which is occupied, and its dungeons, are a great tourist attraction.

It is here, Stoeber said, that the history of the Panama Canal really begins, for it was here that the Spaniards stored the enormous quantity of gold and silver they had stolen from the natives.

In 1648 the new republic of New Granada, now Colombia, granted to the United States government the right to transfer goods from the Atlantic side of the isthmus of Panama to the Pacific.

Some 30 years later, a private French corporation began digging a sea-level canal across the isthmus. This project was viewed by the world with great confidence, for it was directed by Ferdinand de Lesseps, who had attained international renown for his recent completion of the Suez Canal.

In 1889, however, the French Panama company was bankrupt, and De Lesseps had to abandon his dream, leaving behind hundreds of railroad engines, thousands of derricks, dredges, and freight cars, to be engulfed by the jungle.

Then in 1902 the corporation agreed to sell its rights and property to the United States for $40 million.

The U.S. Congress voted in favor of building a canal if the President could obtain the concession from Colombia, of which Panama was a province.

The Colombian Senate demanded an outrageous price, which eventually led to the Panama Revolution and the construction of the present Panama Canal and its completion in 1914.

Stoeber gave a precise explanation of the movement of ships through the canal, showing photos taken from his ship and from the land.

When asked about the locks at the Granite City locks, which states that they are longer than those at Panama, he agreed to the truth of the statement, but added that the Granite City locks have a draft of only 12 feet, while the Panama's draft is 40 feet.

Since 1902 the U.S. has spent $3 billion on the canal and has recovered two billion in tolls.

The largest single toll ever collected was from the Queen Elizabeth II, $69,000, while the smallest was from Richard Halliburton, the journalist, who swam the entire length of the canal, from Atlantic to Pacific, for which he paid a toll of 36 cents.

Canal No. 2 in Stoeber's discussion was the Suez.

Numerous scenes were shown of Djibouti, the African coastal town at the southern end of the Red Sea.

Journeying northward to Suez City, at the southern end of the canal, the Stoebers were told, "No photograph between here and Cairo!" At the latter city they resumed photography, the Sphinx, the pyramids, and the people.

The Suez Canal, Mrs. Stoeber said, is twice as long as the Panama, but its construction was far easier for two reasons — the absence of tides and the absence of rocks and mountains.

For these two reasons no locks are necessary.

During the 1967 war, the Israelis sank several ships in the canal, blocking all traffic. Since 1976 the canal has been cleared and traffic has resumed.

Visitors at the meeting were Mrs. Ruth McDonald and Mrs. Genevieve McComis.

Skinner says Stevenson vulnerable

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Sen. State Rep. Cal Skinner Jr., like Alex Seith, rise from comparative political obscurity and be taken seriously as a candidate for the U.S. Senate?

Skinner's announcement came two days after the election — that he will seek the Republican nomination for the Senate in 1980 was greeted, in his own words, with "shock" and "surprise."

"Disbelief" probably would be added to the list of appropriate responses.

"After all, who is Skinner to carry the GOP banner against such a formidable foe as incumbent Democrat Adlai Stevenson, whose family name has been a household word in state and national politics for generations?"

Skinner would have to be considered a lightweight if he were pitted in a GOP primary fight with more senior party heavies, such as Atty. Gen. William Scott, former Gov. Richard Ogilvie, and Rep. John Anderson of Rockford, a voice of GOP moderates in Congress.

Even at this early date, that is still not the complete list of potential Republican rivals for Stevenson in 1980: Peoria Mayor Richard Carver is an all but announced candidate for the nomination.

And there could be an element of confusion introduced if Sam Skinner enters the race. That Skinner, a protégé of Gov. James Thompson, succeeded Thompson as U.S. attorney, a post he lost when the White House gained a Democratic occupant.

Cal Skinner, here to sound out possible support from the GOP national organizations, said the only candidate on that list who would cause him to bow out is Scott.

He doesn't believe Scott will enter the race.

Scott has been urged in the past by party leaders to run for higher office, but he has remained snuggled in the safe harbor of the attorney general's office since 1968.

There is one difference in 1980. Scott's term as attorney general does not expire until 1982. He could run for the Senate without vacating his current job.

Were not the lesson of Seith in 1978 still fresh in mind, it would be easy to dismiss Skinner's candidacy announcement as vain-gloryous.

Skinner, like Seith, is not known statewide. But, in this age of mass communication, that is not an unsurmountable barrier — particularly for a candidate who makes an early start.

Unlike Seith, Skinner doesn't have a family fortune at his disposal.

But Skinner does have one asset Seith lacked — a knowledge of grassroots political organization.

At the age of 24, Skinner was elected McHenry County treasurer, the youngest in the state. He was re-elected Nov. 7 to his fourth two-year term in the state legislature.

He is young (36), brash and persistent — at times to the point of irritation.

In the legislature, he is best known for his criticisms of municipal taxes and the Regional Transportation Authority, which oversees mass transit in Cook, Lake, Will, DuPage, Kane, and McHenry counties.

"I don't know why there is no one but me who consistently points out the just totally illogical, wasteful expenditures of the RTA," he said with characteristic immediacy.

Skinner figures his petabots at the RTA will be a boon to his candidacy, since about 70 percent of the state's voters live in the six RTA counties.

His other edge is that he is no late rider on the "Anti-Tax, Anti-Spending" bandwagon.

"My role as a legislator has been to point out the problems of property tax inequities," Skinner said. "This year will be the year of quantum jumps in equities — if there is ever going to be any."

If Skinner should win the nomination, he figures Stevenson will be twice as vulnerable as Sen. Charles Percy was against Seith — and on largely the same issues.

He contends Stevenson has become more distant from Illinois voters than Percy was and has done little or nothing to combat inflation.

On that latter charge, Sen. Stevenson (D) is even more vulnerable than Sen. Percy (R) because the Democratic Party controls both Congress and the White House.

Skinner's first objective has to be to convince party leaders that he should be taken seriously.

His early entry is an effort in that direction. He realizes that the general public, having just witnessed a particularly bitter Senate fight, is not interested in a race two years away. But he does hope to make an impression on party leaders.

Skinner sees his legislative cohorts as forming a base for his efforts.

"The reaction from my fellow legislators, after they got over the shock was 'let's consider it,'" Skinner said. "I am reassured that the reaction from my colleagues."

Skinner notes that legislative support was the key to the late Illinois House Speaker Ralph Smith's primary victory over William Rentschler in the 1970 Senate race.

But Smith, a native Granite Cityan, appointed to the Senate by Gov. Ogilvie after the death of Everett M. Dirksen, was clobbered by Stevenson in the general election.

Arrest two after fight

John McCullough, 18, of 2007 Sixth St., Madison, underwent surgery for a cut to the right arm at St. Elizabeth Hospital, following a fight at 3:07 a.m. Saturday.

McCullough and Dane Chastain, 19, of 1908 Sken St., Madison, became involved in a fight in the Upper Level and continued the disturbance outside.

According to police, McCullough became angry outside and began hitting the windows of a park car with his fists and then broke the windows of the Family Bargain Center, 1909 State St., with his fists, cutting his right arm.

He was transported to the hospital for treatment and the police charged him with criminal damage to property. Chastain was charged with disorderly conduct.

Degrees to be nurses' topic

All nurses are being invited to an open meeting to discuss implications of the bachelor degree in nursing as a minimum educational requirement to become a registered nurse.

The meeting of District 10 of the Illinois Nurses' Association will be held in the Belleville Area College theater, 2500 Carlyle Road, at the intersection of Illinois Highway 161 and Greenmount Road, on Tuesday, Dec. 5, at 7 p.m.

Urge return to church

An invitation has been extended by Bishop Joseph A. McNicholas to non-practicing Catholics to return to Church by Christmas. "Come on Home for Christmas" is the theme of the program. The invitation has been extended through all Quad-City Catholic churches as well as those throughout the Springfield Diocese. Lapsed Catholics will be encouraged to resume the practice of their faith. In this campaign, being conducted in 28 counties in central Illinois, lapsed Catholics are reminded that the Church cares about them. Members of Catholic parishes will offer prayers daily for the success of this program of reconciliation. They will circulate a holy card, with a prayer that can be recited by someone who no longer goes to mass, as a reminder of God's love for a member of His Church, according to the bishop.

Personal letters to non-practicing Catholics will be written by Bishop McNicholas in the spirit of the season of Advent, when the Church anticipates Christ's Coming, and renews its spirit of community.

In a 30-second television and radio message to be broadcast during the next four weeks, Bishop McNicholas says to those who strayed from the Church, "I want you to know that we miss you—really we do, and we want you to come home."

Outdoor signs near some churches will carry this message of welcome to those who do not attend mass regularly. Personal contacts by parish priests and laymen have been encouraged. These visits will offer a chance for discussion with persons who feel alienated from the Church, or bewildered by recent changes, a church spokesman said.

UPDATED SLEIGH transports Santa Claus through Venice and Madison as St. Nicholas arrives to open the yule season. Andy Economy, driving, provided this open roadster for the parade from Venice to Madison.

Fire trucks, police cars, clowns and dignitaries joined the parade to accompany Santa as he greeted waiting children along Broadway and Madison Avenue.

Christmas on Sesame

The Christmas season gets a special kickoff this year, as the human and Muppet characters from "Sesame Street" romp through an hour-long drama, "Christmas Eve on Sesame Street," at 7 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 3; 6:10 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 10; and 9:30 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday, Dec. 25, on the television Channel 9. Big Bird is the catalyst in this adventure, as he sets out to answer the question of how Santa Claus gets down all those chimneys. On the road to discovery, Big Bird encounters Mrs. Snuffleupagus, Oscar the Grouch, the Cookie Monster, Mr. Hooper and the whole cast of characters who have become familiar to the program's millions of children and adult viewers.

Locations include an ice skating rink, a visit by Big Bird to Gordon's apartment, a subway and, of course, Sesame Street. Original songs composed for this program include "True Blue Miracle," "Keep Christmas With You All Through the Year" and "I Hate Christmas."

The program will feature Cookie Monster's letter to Santa, Mr. Snuffleupagus being stuffed into a barrel, and games on the ice. This special production will not concentrate on numbers or letters instruction—just music, action and Christmas fun.

Consultation is key—governor

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau
Williamsburg, Va. — Illinois Governor James Thompson, who has had his problems with the state legislature, gave tips to incoming governors on dealing with lawmakers as the Republican Governors Association got down to business last week.

Thompson, the first Illinois Republican governor elected with Democrats controlling both House and Senate, offered both facetious and serious suggestions to the new governors. "Be open, frank and candid — but never tell them exactly what is on your mind," he said.

"When all else fails, hold press conferences. 'Nerve is important. When talking with a legislator let flies walk on your eyes without blinking."

In a more serious vein, Thompson urged the governors to form close ties with their lawmakers, whether Republicans or Democrats.

Consult with them on appointments, let them carry the good news on patronage to job-seeking constituents, answer their questions promptly, take time to hear their requests and positions, attend their fund-raisers, and know when to push and when to leave them alone on votes, he suggested.

Thompson readily conceded that he has not always followed his own advice.

He has drawn criticism for his handling of patronage and for not advancing many legislative proposals.

But Thompson said governors should not be pushed by the news media into proposing a full range of legislative programs. He said a governor's record of legislative accomplishments should not be measured solely by what programs of his own get through the legislature but by the bills he approves, vetoes and amends.

During his recent campaign, one of Thompson's most vociferous critics was Illinois House Speaker William Redmond a Democrat.

When asked after the speech what Redmond would have thought if he had been in the audience, Thompson said, "I think he would have applauded it."

WOMAN IS BEATEN
Deborah Thomase, 25, of 1506 Madison Ave., was injured in a disturbance last week and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with abrasions to her face, jaw and right eye.

Girl Scout Photography awards contest announced

The River Bluffs Girl Scout Council in Glen Carbon announces the requirements for the 1979 Girl Scout photography awards contest, open to any registered Girl Scout, as a girl or adult member or if a person's daughter is a registered Girl Scout.

Awards will be made in three categories: pre-teen, age 6-12 as of June 30, 1979, teen, age 13-17 as of June 30, 1979, and adult, age 18 or over as of June 30, 1979.

The number and amount of awards are as follows: Three grand awards — a $500 U.S. Savings Bond will be awarded for the most outstanding color or black-and-white photograph in each age category.

Six excellence awards — a $100 U.S. Savings Bond will be awarded for one color and one black-and-white photograph cited for excellence in each age category.

Twelve distinction awards — two $50 U.S. Savings Bonds will be awarded for the color and the black-and-white photographs cited for distinction in each age category.

In addition, certificates of merit will be awarded in each age category to outstanding photographs (both color and black-and-white) that did not receive cash awards.

For the observance of 1979 as International Year of the Child, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. will focus on "The Gift in Every Child." The World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts has picked this up as one of several program focuses suggested to member organizations in nearly 100 nations.

Girl Scouting and your camera are a natural combination for finding and celebrating these gifts. Just think — you might picture the victory grin of "I can do it" as a Brownie makes her puppet come alive or a senior changes a flat tire for the first time. You might catch the wonder on the face of a small boy as a junior reads him a story, or the gift of friendship that shines between two caddies talking things over.

In all kinds of Girl Scout activities, there will be moments when you see the gifts of love and joy that truly belong to every child. Have your camera ready to record them.

Award-winning photos will be used in many ways by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., and prints of some will be made available to Girl Scout councils for displays and publications. Pictures of Girl Scouts in uniform are particularly good for these purposes.

There is no entry fee to enter, a girl or adult may enter as many as three color and three black-and-white photographs. Each set of pictures must be accompanied by an official entry form available at the Girl Scout Council office in Glen Carbon.

Color photographs may be slides (2"x2" mount) or prints (no smaller than 3½"x3½", no larger than 8"x10").

Black-and-white photographs should be glossy prints no smaller than 5"x3½", no larger than 8"x10". Prints must be unmounted. Only photographs taken after June 1, 1978, will be eligible.

Write the photographer's name lightly but legibly on the back of each print or on the slide frame. Do not use hard pencil or ball-point pen on the back of prints. Do not write on negatives.

Original negatives or transparencies are not required for entry but must be available to Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. on request.

Entries must be postmarked no later than June 30, 1979, but may be submitted at any time before that date. Send to: Girl Scout Photography Awards, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., 830 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022.

Be sure to use correct postage. For return of any entries not selected for awards or certificates of merit, enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing the same correct postage. Entries will not be returned unless they are accompanied by such an envelope.

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. cannot be responsible for damage or loss of photographic materials but will make every effort to safeguard them, it was reported.

Color and black-and-white photographs will be judged separately by a panel of experts appointed by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. Judges will be looking for originality, composition and good camera technique, as well as for photographs that reveal the gift in a particular child or children. The decision of the judges will be final.

Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. shall have the right to use award-winning photographs and those receiving certificates of merit for the purposes of exhibition, illustration, audiovisual production, advertising or publication in any manner.

A signed release giving permission for the uses listed above must be ob-

Workshop on music in liturgy

People of the Granite City area are being invited by the Office of Divine Worship and the Liturgy Commission to workshop, given by the Rev. Bob Dufford of the St. Louis Jesuit Singers, on Saturday, Dec. 9, at St. Elizabeth Church, 2301 Pontoon Road, Granite City.

It will be a workshop on liturgical principles, emphasizing the art of appreciating and understanding proper and meaningful use of music in liturgy. It will begin at 9 a.m. and end with the liturgy at 5:30 p.m.

The workshop is for priests, musicians, music directors and anyone interested in better liturgies. All teachers and parishioners also are being urged to participate.

There will be a $3 fee, which does not include lunch.

As soon as judging is completed, photographers whose pictures have been selected for recognition will be notified and provided with release forms. Sample release forms may be obtained in advance by writing to Girl Scout Photography Awards at the address given. No photograph can receive an award until releases are received by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

If you are interested in entering, contact the Girl Scout Office for an official entry blank by writing to River Bluffs Girl Scout Council, P.O. Box 430, Glen Carbon, Ill. 62034 or call Diane Busch at 288-7286 or 345-1606, according to the council office.

DON DETERDING

By PETE HAYES

BRIDGEPORT, Ill. — Don Deterding's first three games as the Granite City South basketball coach this season have brought an education.

"We're going to have a heck of a defensive club," said Deterding. "We've always had good defensive teams, but this one could be one of the best."

Deterding watched here over the weekend as his Warriors easily walked through weak opposition enroute to winning the Red Hill Post-Thanksgiving Tournament in three straight games.

Friday night, South easily handed Edwards County High of Albion 80-38. Saturday afternoon the Warriors beat Oblong High 66-42 and Saturday night they blasted Red Hill 87-64.

But was the three-game stint here really worth it? Was it enough of a test for South? "We learned some things for sure," said Deterding. "We learned we need to work on our man-to-man defense, we learned how to work and live together as a team."

WHEN DETERDING arrived in Granite City some seven years ago, he brought with him a reputation of being a winner. His Effingham High team of 1970 went to the finals of the sectional before being ousted by Lawrenceville.

Upon entering the Granite City coaching scene, Deterding showed again he is a winner. His GCHS team of 1971-72 went to the Super Sectional at Charleston where it was beaten by an undefeated Paris team led by high school All-American Otto Tucker.

But recent years in Granite City have been lean as far as basketball is concerned. GCHS North had a scrappy bunch a few seasons ago which booted Collinsville out of regional tournament play. But Granite Cityans haven't had a legitimate contender for Regional honors since the days when Terry Ripka was swishing 'em through the nets.

BUT WHAT about this year? How do the '78-79 Warriors stack up against the great Granite City teams of the past? "Right now, I'd say they're improving quickly," said Deterding. "But they've got the potential to be the best team I've ever had here ... if they work hard."

To have a team to compare with the likes of Collinsville and other powers, one needs to get all the breaks possible. Up until the Red Hill tournament, nothing had happened to hurt South's chances.

But Saturday afternoon, two of the Warriors came down with the flu. Starting guard Jeff Vaughn and forward Lee Heubner.

Heubner didn't complain and started. He played most of Saturday night's game. But Vaughn was sick enough to stay out of uniform and sit on the bench. Then after the Red Hill game Saturday, substitute Brent Houston got sick.

"I hope this thing is a short-term one," said Deterding. "That's all we need, to have two starters and a sub out for two weeks with the flu."

The Sporting Thing

Don't look now, but the Bills ain't bad

Hey basketball fans, don't look now, but there's a possibility that a NCAA Division I basketball power may be lurking outside your door.

I watched at the Checkerdome Wednesday night past as St. Louis University, through some divine intervention managed to tie Southern Illinois University-Carbondale in regulation, and then go on and defeat the Salukis 81-75 in overtime.

Quite frankly, the Salukis got the shaft the likes of which haven't been seen since the Soviets got three seconds out of nowhere to defeat the U.S. National team in the 1972 Olympic Games in Munich.

With 11 seconds to go and SIU ahead 71-69, the Billikins' Everette Cadden dribbled the ball off his ankle out of bounds, giving the Salukis the victory ... or so about everyone looking on thought. All SIU had to do was get the ball over the time line and hold it. That's all.

But Saluki forward Barry Smith, a junior out of Edoradio, was gang-tackled at the half-court mark by a host of Bills, causing him to lose the ball. SIU went unmolested for the tying basket with two ticks left on the clock. Freshman guard Willie Horn took the ball in for the score.

Much to my (and about 500 other Saluki fans watching) dismay, no foul was called when Smith was ambushed at half-court. I'm especially amazed since there are now three officials on the floor. Surely one of them saw it. It was totally unbelievable.

But quite honestly, the game shouldn't have been that close. Even though SIU has some super talent, and will be a team to watch from now on, they don't have the pressure experience or the honed raw talent that the Salukis have.

What they DO have is a new coach. A very good new coach. Ron Ekker.

Ekker came to St. Louis in mid-June, following the ousting of Ron Coleman after a one-year stint at the head job.

With practically no recruiting having been done, Ekker stepped into the SLU job after a highly-successful stint at West Texas State. He managed to recruit some very talented athletes and should have a fine season ... but should be even better as the years go by. Perhaps he can even return to St. Louis University the national prestige it once enjoyed as a basketball power.

Down at Carbondale, there's also a new coach, Joe Gottfried, who replaced the late Paul Lambert.

Lambert quit the SIU job after last season to take the job at Auburn, but was killed in a hotel fire last summer.

I hope he didn't let the loss to St. Louis Tuesday bother him. I know it did, but a team can learn.

What the Salukis probably learned Tuesday was that you can't take ANY team too lightly. They came into the Checkerdome, looked around, probably yawned and said, "Hey, man, what is this? We ought to blow these guys away."

Wrong attitude.

The Bills played absolutely out of their heads, while SIU looked lackadaisical all night. AND the game still went into overtime. That should give you an indication of the relative strength of the two teams.

But starting out a season with a case of hard luck isn't anything new to an SIU team with a new coach. When Jack Hartman took over for Harry Gallatin, the Salukis had some hard times early in their first season under him.

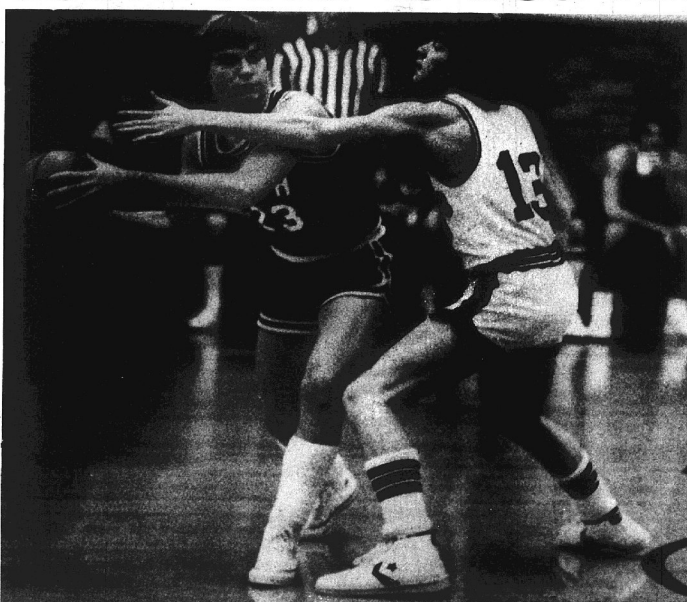

When Lambert took over for Hartman, the same thing occurred. It seems that with a new coach comes a little bit of time in getting used to his system of doing things.

But St. Louis U. needed Tuesday's game. It was its first big game after a disastrous season. It was against a team which had won 20 games or more each of the last three seasons and had made it to the NCAA National quarterfinals two years ago.

St. Louis came through. SIU will come out of it. I feel the Salukis will win the Missouri Valley and do well in the NCAA playoffs.

But Granite City area basketball fans don't have to wait until January and the NCAA Game of the Week on TV to see top-flight Division I action. All they have to do is drive over the Poplar Street Bridge to Checkerdome or take a short drive down to Carbondale.

Steelers fall twice

EAST ST. LOUIS — The cagers from Granite City North could have won two over the weekend, but as fate decided, they lost both games. Friday night, North lost 50-37 to Wood River and at Assumption, they lost a tight battle 58-51 to the Pioneers.

"We just got tired," said North's coach, Bill Ohlendorf. "Saturday, we didn't meet Assumption's aggressiveness with our own. We gave them one shot in the first half — no second chances. But, we got tired in the second half and they went on the boards."

North-Assumption The Steelers had a surprising 16-3 lead at the end of the first quarter. The Pioneers took the primary lead on a jump shot by Acie Fields. Fields went on to be Assumption's top scorer, as well as top scorer of the contest, with 24 total points.

Steelers in the third quarter. It wasn't a tornado but worse. Assumption outscored North by 14 points in the third period and took the lead, by two points 43-41 at the end of the quarter.

Ohlendorf's five only scored eight points in the third. Two of those four buckets came from the hands of Tom Greco. The other four points came from Page and Robertson.

The Pioneers scored on 11 buckets on nearly every time they held the ball. They went on top at that point 43-41.

The fourth quarter in this game was synonymous with the word "war." Both armies had something to do. The Assumption forces had to hold the two point lead and the Northern army had to take the lead.

Two and one half minutes escaped before the next basket was scored — it was by Assumption, as well as the next bucket and the next. It wasn't until North was down by a score of 56-47 and the clock was down to 0:15 before the Steelers' Greco scored a two-point and the deficit was reduced to seven points.

North-Wood River Friday night at the Memorial gymnasium, the Steelers lost their season opener to the Oilers by a score of 50-37.

North found itself down 11-8 at the end of the first. And at halftime, the Steelers were down 23-14. But, with eight straight buckets at the beginning of the third quarter North within one point, 23-22.

The Oilers refused to say die and rallied back to a 50-37 victory. Buzz Logan was high scorer of the game with 22 points for the Wood River squad. Mike Toby of Wood River and Chappell of North tied for second highest with 11 points each.

BRIDGEPORT, Ill. — Using a well-balanced scoring attack and an overwhelming defense, the Granite City High South Warriors breezed to the championship of the Red Hill Post-Thanksgiving Tournament here Saturday night by beating the host school, Red Hill, 87-64 in the finale.

In earlier games, South downed Edwards County 80-38 and Oblong 66-42.

The Warriors were never seriously threatened in the course of the three-game round-robin affair, even though to listen to head coach Don Deterding, you wouldn't know it. "There were many times we just didn't play well at all," he said. "Especially the second game (a 66-42 win over Oblong High). We just looked terrible at times."

"But that's one of the reasons we come down here ... so we can get a look at as many people on our roster as possible, learn from game experience and still hopefully come home with a trophy."

The championship won by South was the second in as many years at Bridgeport. It was the third year the Warriors have been in the tourney. The first year (1976), South was beaten by Red Hill in the championship game.

South-Edwards County In the first game, Friday against Edwards County of Albion, South shook off an early slow start and cruised to one of its easiest victories in years, 80-38.

"We had some trouble in the first four or five minutes," said Deterding. "I don't know whether it was first-game jitters or what. But we got rid of them."

considerable playing time and all but one scored. "We tried to run as much as we could against Edwards County," said Deterding. "And I thought we ran very well."

South-Oblong Saturday afternoon, the Warriors played perhaps their poorest game of the tournament — and still won by 24 points, 66-42.

"We looked very sluggish in the Oblong game," said Deterding. "Somehow a weaker team will draw a better one down to its level. If that's what happened — and I'm not saying it was — it's not good. We should be able to play with intensity without getting psyched-up."

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW BROUGHT TO YOU BY MILTON MATHEWS

Did you know that a football team once changed coaches right in the middle of a game? ... That's how the famous old coach Jimmy Conzelmann got his first coaching job ... It happened when Conzelmann was a player in the National Football League in 1921. ... During a game that season, he was in the huddle when a substitute ran in and told Conzelmann that the coach on the bench just had a fight with the owner of the team. ... The owner fired the coach on the spot and appointed Conzelmann, who thus became the only football coach in history appointed while a game was in progress.

See if you can name the only major college football bowl game that's been played in THREE different cities ... It's the Liberty Bowl, first played in Philadelphia, then in Atlantic City, N.J., and now in Memphis, Tenn.

New fans know that in the early days of football, touchdowns counted for nothing! ... In those days, a touchdown merely gave a team the right to try to "convert" the touchdown into a score by kicking the ball through the goal posts. ... This feature is still retained in today's point-after-touchdown which is sometimes still called a "conversion."

There's been a change

There will be no Metro Suburban Athletic Conference next school year.

The reason is that the planning board recently changed the name of the new loop to the Gateway Area Conference.

I don't really know why then changed the name, but I think it sounds a little better than the old one.

But whatever it's called, the new conference still needs the vote of one more school before it becomes reality. Edwardsville still hasn't given approval, even though it seems academic at this point.

Madison breezes; edged by Flyers

By KEVIN ALLEN
For the Press-Record

EAST ST. LOUIS — The Madison Basketball 11 Trojans faced their first serious test of the young season over the weekend, playing back-to-back against Jerseyville on Friday and East St. Louis on Saturday.

The Trojans beat Jerseyville handily, 70-52, but came up short against East St. Louis, 63-53. Playing on East St. Louis' home court, the Trojans couldn't hold a 32-26 lead going into the third quarter until the final buzzer. "I'm disappointed," said Madison coach Larry Graham. "I feel we should have won the game."

"We worked in spurts and we got tired. We're not real deep on the bench," he added.

It seemed for a time that Madison had a good chance of upsetting the traditionally powerful Flyers. The two teams played an almost even first quarter. Madison was countering East St. Louis' height advantage in the persons of Walter Jackson and James Douglas, with an effective pressing defense and the Trojans

COLLINSVILLE, ILL.

Yes sir, it's hoop time!

BRIDGEPORT, Ill. — Little would you guess from the expression on his face below, but GCHS South basketball coach Don Deterding and his Warrior charges won a tournament this past weekend.

Oh, it wasn't the Regional . . . and it wasn't the Sectional . . . it wasn't the Wood River Christmas Tournament. The Warriors won the top prize in the Red Hill Post-Thanksgiving Tournament by out-scoring their opponents by a combined total of 285-144. The closest game they had was one they won by 23 points.

But Deterding wasn't totally satisfied. Good coaches seldom are. He said there are many strengths they found they had in this tourney . . . but he said he also spotted some weaknesses which must be worked on.

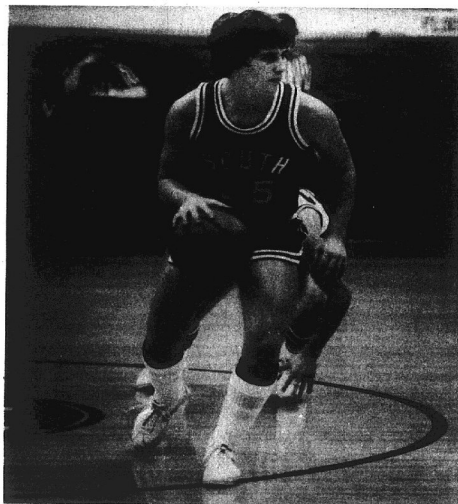

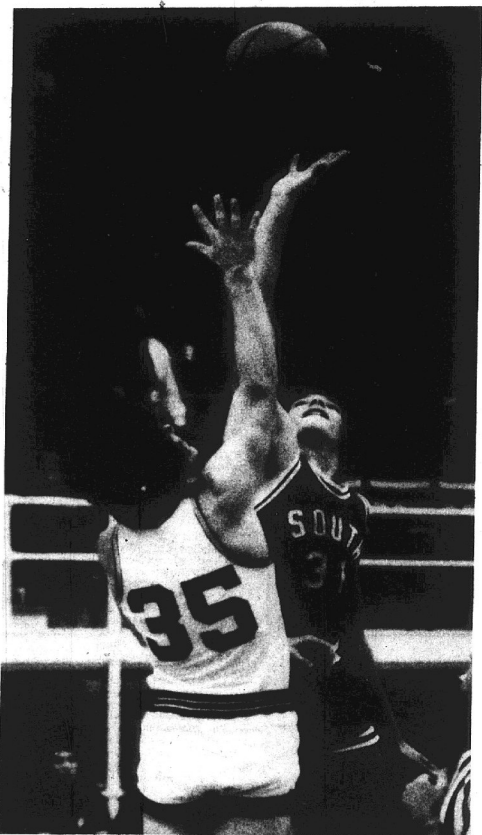

Everybody on the team got to play for South in this tournament. That's something Deterding is glad about. He said it gives him a chance to see what kind of depth he's got on his squad this season . . . just in case he has to use it later on.

He probably will sooner or later. Deterding said one thing about a tournament like this one (some 130 miles from Granite City) is that it gives the team a chance to see what it's like to actually live with each other for three days.

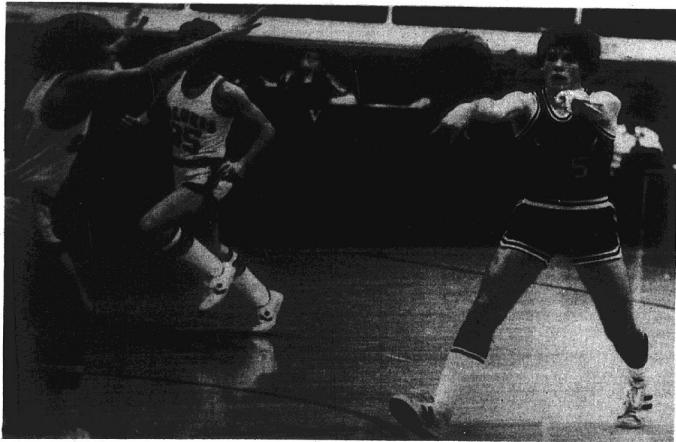

"It gives the guys a chance to try and get along," said Deterding. "I think it builds up more of a feeling of friendship among teammates."

One thing is for sure. If the kinks hadn't been worked out of the South system before the Red Hill Tournament, they'd better be worked out come Friday. That's when the Warriors hit the road for their fourth game of the season . . . at Quincy Notre Dame. Saturday South will play at home for the first time this season when it hosts Belleville West.

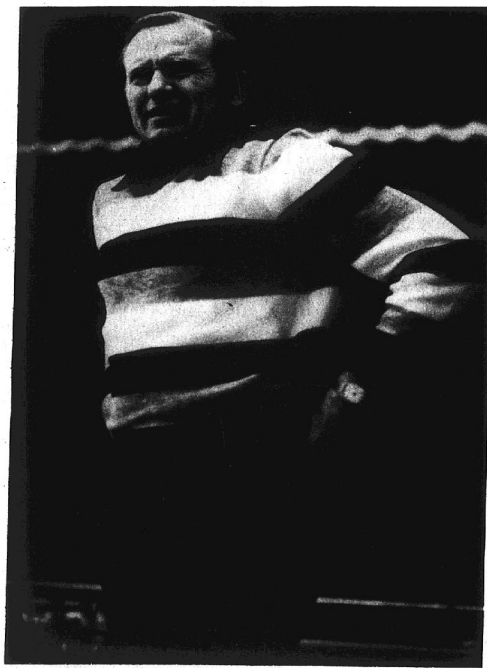

NEXT WEEK: An in-depth look at GCHS North.

Cougar wrestlers open '78-'79 season

By DAVE CAUSEY
For the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wrestling Cougars opened their home season in fine style Thursday night as they defeated Central Oklahoma, 26-14, and Western Illinois, 40-9. The wins put SIUE's dual meet mark at 3-0.

Prior to the meet, SIUE was ranked 10th in NCAA Division II, while Central Oklahoma was ranked 11th and Western 15th.

While a 12-point win appears to be a mild runaway, the victory over Central Oklahoma was in jeopardy the entire match, with several come-from-behind wins by the Cougars being pivotal in the win.

Tom Reed, 118-pound Cougar All-American, fought to a 3-3 draw with Central's 118-pound All-American, Jeff Robinson. Terry Mulrenin, senior two-time All-American for the Cougars at 126, dumped Kirk Taylor 6-2 to give SIUE a 5-2 lead in the team score. Central Oklahoma then took a 8-5 lead by winning the next two matches, with David James, a two-time All-American, defeating Cougar Tim Ervin 10-6, and John Powell, a former Big Eight runner-up, defeating SIUE's Mike Lorentzen, 8-3.

SIUE's two-time All-American Dru Meshes fell behind 6-1 to his opponent, Pat Pace, in the first period of their 150-pound match, but Meshes wrestled back. In the final period, Meshes outscored his opponent with a flurry of takedowns and near-falls to pull a 13-9 win out of the fire and tie the team score.

Tim Napier, the tough Cougar 158 pounder, was behind 1-0 with 15 seconds left in his match. Using an escape to tie the match, Napier then took down his competitor, John Finn, to his back for four points and a 5-1 win, also giving the Cougars a three-point edge, 11-8.

Ron Zeno then gave Central a three-point lead by pinning SIUE's Charles Shelton in 4:22.

Things were looking dim for the Cougars when Bill Castans fell behind Dave Alley of Central State 7-0 after the first period. Castans then scored a reversal at the state of the second period and worked over Alley in an attempt to wear him down. Castans' strategy worked as he scored a pair of near falls in the final period to pull out a 10-9 win, once again deadlocking the team score.

Cougar Norm Mitchell, 190 pounder, a Greco-Roman (upper body style of wrestling) national champion in high school, used an under-arm spin and then switched to a headlock to pin Central's Dave Legrande in 35 seconds, giving the Cougars a commanding six-point lead.

The Cougars are without a heavyweight, and a forfeit at that weight would have ended the meet in a 20-20 draw. But Coach Larry Kirstoff had an ace up his sleeve with three-time All-American Mark Hattendorf, who usually wrestles at 177 pounds. Hattendorf totally dominated the match and pinned Central's Bill Kitchens in 3:36 to clinch the win.

The match against Western was less of a challenge for the Cougars, who had the event won after the first six matches. Reed pinned Tim Cheek in 56 seconds, Mulrenin beat John Tripoli 9-2, Ervin won by forfeit, Lorentzen pinned Steve Penly in 4:53, Meshes majored Randy Thomas 15-3, and Napier beat Vittorio Favati 4-1 to give the Cougars an insurmountable 28-0 lead.

Brian Wilson then decided the Cougars' Charles Shelton for a 9-3 win.

Castans faced Western's All-American Jack Weisenborn, who had beaten Castans 5-2 two weeks earlier. Castans avenged himself in grand style by immediately taking Weisenborn down and, using his characteristic tough ride, cranked on Weisenborn, wearing down his resistance. Starting the second period on bottom, Castans immediately reversed and pinned the fatigued Weisenborn 25 seconds later.

A Western forfeit at 190 gave the Cougars a 40-3 lead with just the heavyweight match to go. Western has All-American John Pasholk at that weight, who is a huge and capable wrestler. Rather than risking serious injury to the valuable Hattendorf, Kristoff opted to forfeit the heavyweight class, keeping the smaller Cougar out of the match.

were hitting from the outside.

Madison took the lead in the game for the first time in the beginning of the second quarter. The Trojans were forcing the Flyers into mistakes and working the ball into the middle. The Trojan lead lasted into the second period until East St. Louis pulled even because of some sloppy Trojan passing.

We had trouble getting the pass from the wing anywhere," said Graham. "In some respects, we're a poor passing team." The Trojans regrouped, however, and with the aid of their defensive strength, retook the lead at the half 32-26.

Graham was more contented with his team's performance Friday night against Jerseyville. "We just played our game. We had a good start, made some shots and our defense stayed with them."

The game looked like it might be a wide open, high scoring affair from the beginning. Both teams were using a fast break with good success and the action under the boards was frantic. The Trojans, who settled down late in the period held a 20-10 lead at the opening of the second.

no matter who we're playing."

Deterding thought forward Lee Heubner had an outstanding game for South offensively — he scored 17 points. "Lee looked real well once he got his shot down," he said. "But we didn't look real good as a team defensively."

At any rate, the "not real good" defensive team from South caused 29 Oblong turnovers, five more than Edwards County had committed the night before.

Fed Hill, South already knew it had the championship of the tournament
 already won. Edwards County had finished its three games with a 2-1 record. If South lost to Red Hill, the Warriors would have ended in a tie with the Lions. But would have won because they had beaten them.

The result of the no-pressure situation? An 87-64 victory. "We played with quite a bit of intensity
 tonight," said Deterding afterwards. "We got to try a number of things we've been needing to work on,
 also."

After a shaky first quarter (South at one point trailed 10-4), the Warriors stormed to an 18-10 lead at the first stop. "We finally got things together," said Deterding. "Red Hill's a scrappy bunch, even though they're a little low on overall talent this season."

But when all was said and done, South had easily walked away with the first place trophy.

At Kirgan in 126 won by fall in 3:09 defeating Mike Terry and in the 132 weight division, Greg Sherman pinned Dave Eickelber in 2:33. With the quickest pin was Kevin Sherman. He stuck Charlie Robinson
 32 seconds from a hip toss.

With the "prettiest stick"
 was Mitch Steen at 167 pounds. The move was a three-quarter stack and was done to Kevin Crotty in 2:39. Mike Painter, at 185, in 3:28 put down Lon Smith
 at at heavyweight. Al
 Sullivan stuck Scott
 Simmons in 2:28.

Winning by 15 points for a superior decision was Tracy Patton in the 119 weight class. Patton got the original take plus 11 near fall points from Dean Harbison. The Steeler also got a reversal in the third period to finalize his score of 15-0.

Meanwhile, at Edward-ville Friday, GCHS South got its dual meet season
 underway with a bang,
 defeating the Tiger grapplers by an overwhelming score of 49-6.
 Winners for South were:

Madison needs more funds for shopping center

The Madison City Council was informed Tuesday evening by Mayor Mike Sasyk that the city will need to raise about $1.32 million to receive $220,000 in Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) funds that are being sought to upgrade the Madison business area and to build a mini-shopping center.

"We were in Detroit last Wednesday to meet with the federal people along with other cities representatives competing for UDAG funds. I think we had a good meeting and were told we are ahead in our planning over many other cities," Sasyk said. "One thing the government wants is a six to one ratio on funds. That's six parts private money for one part federal."

"Right now we are three to one, but I feel confident we can raise the additional money in private funds."

"Al Hudzik (city controller), and I already have begun to work on this and I see no real problems," the mayor said.

City Attorney Casper S. Nighossian informed the council that Willie Radman is trying to continue the court fight over the property at 321-327 Madison Ave.

"I received notice that Mr. Radman has filed an appeal of the circuit court condemnation order with the Appellate Court. I received the notice on Monday and will file a reply," Nighossian said. The buildings already has been demolished under the circuit court condemnation order.

John Dutko, building inspector, reported that a condemned structure at 915 Greenwood St. was almost down.

He then presented to the council recommendations that condemnation proceedings be started on property at 1294 Madison Ave., and 1542-44 Seventh St.

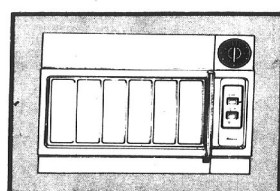

Curtis King, assistant building inspector, asked the council to approve condemnation action of the property at 900 Jackson St. and 414 Second St.

The council concurred. A special use permit for a beauty salon in the 1700 block of Fifth Street, requested by Mrs. Juanita Jora Mathis, a former resident of Madison, was denied by the council on the recommendation of the Zoning Board.

The council approved the sale of the city's D-4 crawler, heavy construction equipment, as it is accepting delivery on a new one purchased in September for $24,790.

James Shipcoff, a Madison resident and retired assistant superintendent of streets in Madison, was appointed to the Madison Zoning Board.

Cubs give demonstrations

Cub Pack 46, sponsored by Nameoki School PTA, gave demonstrations skits and sang songs in conjunction with the monthly meeting theme of "High Country U.S.A." held at the school cafeteria.

To open the session Den Three presented the colors and led the audience in the pledge of allegiance, followed by members of each den performing skits or demonstrations.

Featured songs were "She'll Be Comin' Round the Mountain" led by Den Five, and "The Bear Went Over the Mountain" led by Den Two.

Den Three demonstrated an erupting volcano and the Webelos illustrated three parts of a tree which they studied as a requirement for a forestry badge.

Cubmaster Jack Dawson conducted a test on mountains in the United States with all cub scouts participating and later awarded a cub scout key chain to Marc Varady for naming the presidents on Mount Rushmore.

A 50-word essay contest on "Why I Love America" was held during the month for second year scouts as a qualification for their Bear badge. Compensation insurance hike plea rejected

The Illinois Department of Insurance last week denied a requested increase in workmen's compensation insurance rates.

The 36.8 percent increase was requested by the Insurance Services Office on behalf of insurance companies which write workmen's compensation policies.

In denying the increase, Illinois Insurance Director Richard L. Mathias said, among other things, that figures presented by the Insurance Services Office were not clearly based on reliable audited reports, and certain expense factors were not justified.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL MACMILLAN. They exchanged wedding vows in an evening ceremony at the First United Presbyterian Church. Formerly Miss Dawn Lynn Oram, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Oram, 2817 Idaho Ave.

Dawn Lynn Oram weds Michael MacMillan

Altar bouquets of pink carnations and sprays of pink and white blossoms decorated the sanctuary of the First United Presbyterian Church and burning tapers in hurricane lamps, accented with greenery and lily of the valley, illuminated the aisle for the wedding, on Nov. 18, of Miss Dawn Lynn Oram and Michael A. MacMillan.

The Rev. David B. Maxton performed a double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening. Organist Mrs. Isabel Schmidt played "Feelings," "Evergreen," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "The Wedding March."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Oram, 2817 Idaho Ave. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. C. A. MacMillan, 2840 State St.

Serving as candlelighters were Miss Lynn Marie Massa and Miss Lisa Massa, cousins of the bride.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Oram wore a formal ivory silk organza gown fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline, framed in imported Venice lace, which also accented the Empire bodice.

The full bishop sleeves featured a row of delicate Venice lace flowers applied vertically on the sleeves and encircled the cuffs.

Her full skirt had a tier effect which was bordered with matching lace and motifs and terminated in a court train. She wore a cap of lace and pearls to secure her waltz length veil of illusion, trimmed with tiny lace floral appliques.

Her bouquet was an arrangement of white cymbidium orchids and pink roses in a crescent shape with baby's breath on a small white Bible covered with ivory lace. The Bible had been carried by her mother at her wedding.

Mrs. Sheila McCauley was matron of honor and bridesmaids included Mrs. Tina Holland, Miss Susanne Garrett and Miss Susan Kowalski.

They chose identical rose polyester gowns designed with high necklines, long sleeves terminating with a lace ruff at the wrists and enhanced with an ivory lace and ribbon trim.

Each attendant held a small crescent bouquet of pink cymbidium orchids and ivory carnations, intermingled with greenery.

The groom chose his brother, Patrick MacMillan, as best man. Groomsmen were Gary Holland, Charles MacMillan, another brother of the groom, and Gary Kuenemann.

Seating the guests were David and Stephen Jacoby, cousins of the bride.

Miss Debbie Franks presided over the guest book at a reception given at the Sunset Hills Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. MacMillan, parents of the groom, entertained members of the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner held at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Oram selected a full length Wedgewood blue silk chiffon gown with long sleeves. Mrs. MacMillan was attired in a floor-length dress created in pink tulle with long sleeves, a V-neckline and a sash at the natural waistline.

The newlywed couple took a wedding trip to Sarasota, Fla., and are now residing at 2332 State St. A 1974 graduate of Granite City High School, the bride attended Western Illinois University for three years and graduated in June from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is presently employed at Coordinated Youth Services.

The groom is working as a foreman at Consolidated Flavors Corp., St. Charles, Mo., and also is a South High School graduate.

Ideas exchanged by women policymakers

Mrs. Vasil (Anita) Eftimoff of Granite City was at SIUE with 30 other women for an invitational workshop for women policymakers in government. The one-day event was cosponsored by the university's Graduate Urban Studies Program and by the Metro-East Women's Political Caucus, of which she is chairman.

Cathy Rosen, a member of the City Council of Fairview Heights, said, "One sure way to increase effectiveness in local legislative bodies is strong familiarity with 'nuts and bolts' techniques of local management—budgeting, planning and program evaluation."

Jane O'Neill, a member of the Alton City Council and co-chairman of the event, said, "When women are elected or appointed to legislative bodies for the first time, they are likely to be tested by their colleagues for their competence in the basic work of the boards upon which they have come to serve."

Workshop keynotes speakers—Geraldine Osborn, a member of the St. Louis Board of Aldermen, and Katie Wright, a member of the School Board of East St. Louis—detailed their views of specific competencies upon which women policymakers should concentrate.

Other panelists included: Ruth Cook, associate professor of education at SIUE and a member of the Edwardsville Board of Education; Carolyn Chapman, member of the Menial Health Board in St. Clair County; and Jane Altes, assistant vice-president for academic programs in the Office of the Vice-President and Provost at SIUE.

GASOLINE SHORTAGE CALLED NOT SERIOUS

Area service stations and the Shell Oil refinery in Roxana say no major impact is likely from Shell's nationwide 25 percent reduction of allocations to its stations. The firm announced Thursday that a shortage of gasoline had developed due to a "dramatic increase in demand," maintenance work at two refineries, and federal regulations blamed for limiting Shell's prices to "an unrealistically low level."

Reject zoning pleas

After hearing discussions by spokesmen of both sides in two planning and zoning cases, the Granite City Council last week rejected a plea for commercial zoning to permit operation of a chiropractic office, and confirmed action by the City Plan Commission rejecting a petition for a special use permit for operation of a dental office.

Arguments in behalf of and against the requests in both cases were permitted by the aldermen immediately after the council convened in a regular meeting and was told that one of the cases—that involving the chiropractic office—had been referred to the council by the plan commission without a recommendation.

That petition involved a request by Dr. John Galbreath, 1334 Johnson Road, for a C-1 (commercial) classification instead of its present R-2 (residential) zoning to permit use of the property for a chiropractic office. The Plan Commission met on the petition last week but reported it could make no recommendation on the plea because one of five members attending the meeting disqualified himself because of a conflict of interest, leaving the plan commission without a quorum to vote on the request. Petitions signed by area residents opposing the rezoning were filed with the plan commission.

As a result the plan commission referred the matter directly to the council without a recommendation. Dr. Galbreath spoke briefly, noting that there would be no parking problem because he planned to provide parking at the rear of the building. He said this also would prevent any further traffic congestion on Johnson Road.

Dr. Galbreath said he believed the office would benefit the neighborhood. A woman in the audience, serving as spokesman for a delegation of residents, told the aldermen that the persons living in the area were not opposed to the chiropractic office, but objected primarily to the C-1 zoning because once it was allowed "Everything will start coming into the neighborhood."

"We have enough traffic congestion as it is," she said, "without allowing parking in the rear of the houses."

Paul R. Bowler, alderman of Ward Seven, called for a caucus by council members who discussed the matter only briefly and suggested Bowler put the matter on the council floor by making a motion.

Back in session, Bowler made a motion that the C-1 rezoning be allowed. The motion was defeated by a vote of 9 to 2 yes, with Bowler and Alderman Margaret Norn casting the only affirmative votes. Three council members were absent.

In the other case, Fred

Fossieck, 2130 Johnson Road, was denied a request for a special use permit to locate his dental office at the Johnson Road address by the City Plan Commission, which recommended to the council that the petition be denied.

Leon Scroggins, Granite City attorney, addressed the council in Fossieck's behalf. Since one of the aldermen had remarked that the city has been issuing too many special permits, Scroggins told the aldermen Fossieck would be willing to revise his request in any way the council desired if it did not wish to issue the use permit.

Scroggins said Fossieck planned to live in the house as well as operate his dental practice there, and that he had made arrangements for parking without adding to traffic congestion in the neighborhood.

Fred Cunningham, a resident of the area, replied that he did not believe the operation of the office would be of benefit to the neighborhood. He said it is his understanding that use permits were to be issued in "hardship cases" and that to issue a permit "would be inconsistent with the purposes of zoning."

The council approved a motion by Bowler that the permit be denied. The council did concur in a plan commission recommendation granting a C-1 zoning classification to petitioners Helen Gantcheff and Anne Slate for use of property at 2122 Edison Avenue to be used as a law office. The plan commission reported there were no objectors to that petition.

Also approved by the aldermen was plan commission action approving annexation of a 150 feet by 149 foot tract of land on Pine Street.

Burglar flees

A burglar at the home of John Breyer, 2608 E. 27th St., fled past Breyer and his wife when they returned home Thursday. Police were told the wife entered the front door and saw a light in a bedroom. A teenage boy then walked from the bedroom, passed her and went out the front door.

She yelled at her husband, "Stop him," but the youth started running and fled from Breyer, who was getting out of his car in front of the house. The home was ransacked, but nothing was known missing. A window was pried open to gain entry after attempts to pry the rear door were unsuccessful, evidence indicated.

The burglar was described as about 18 years old and having dark hair.

LOOT GARAGE

A $171 electric grinder was stolen from a workbench in a storeroom of the maintenance garage for the Granite City Street Department and Inspection Department, 2301 Adams St., during the past month, it was discovered last week.

Here are some ideas for a safe holiday while enjoying your Yuletide lighting.

- Don't overload the circuit that feeds your decorating lights. Turn off other room lights when your tree is lit.
- If you have a natural tree, keep it moist at the base and have it treated with flame retardant.
- Look for the UL (Underwriters' Laboratories) seal on every string of lights and other fixtures.
- Check the wires on every strand of lights for worn or cracked insulation. This is a sure sign of trouble and the string should be discarded.
- Don't use flimsy, easily flammable decorations that could be ignited by contact with a lighted bulb.
- For outdoor lighting, string your lights from a grounded outlet. Be sure to use plastic film where extension cords join. And use cords and fixtures approved for outdoor use.

III. lawmakers cite inflation

By MIKE KIENZLER
Press-Record

Springfield Bureau
The Illinois General Assembly "took the money and ran" last week.

Favoring pay raises on initial and override votes were State Representative Jim McPike and State Senator Sam Vadalabene. Opposed on both votes were Rep. Everett G. Steele and retiring Rep. Joe E. Lucio. Lawmakers overrode a token veto by Gov. James Thompson to vote themselves, other state elected officials, judges and to-level administrators staff pay hikes.

They had discussed the raises for several weeks, but the last details apparently were not worked out until Wednesday morning. The tightly choreographed, one-day coup allowed legislators to take a break from the annual veto session without fear public reaction might result in loss of support for the raise proposal.

Major raises in the package, which will cost $8.4 million annually when in full effect, are:

—General Assembly members will be paid $28,000 annually beginning in January, an $8,000 yearly raise that apparently makes them the highest-paid state legislators in the nation.

—The legislative increase was the highest percentage raise — 40 percent — received by any major group covered under the bill.

Lawmakers also granted themselves a five-cent increase in their travel allowance, raising it to 20 cents per mile.

They did not change their $36 daily allowance for meals and lodging while in session.

Salaries for other constitutional officers and judges also were increased by $8,000. That puts Thompson's pay at $58,000; that of the lieutenant governor at $45,500; the secretary of state and attorney general at $50,500; and the state treasurer, comptroller and auditor general at $48,000.

Supreme Court justices' pay was hiked to $58,000; that of appellate judges to $53,000; circuit judges to $50,500; and associate circuit judges to $45,500 annually.

Top-level state administrators received raises according to recommendations made in March by a special wage study commission, up to a maximum of $8,000.

The highest-paid cabinet officials — the directors of public aid, public health and mental health and the secretary of transportation — are scheduled to be paid $52,000 under the measure.

The pay raise issue had been the center of intense effort in the Capitol last week as leaders worked to make sure they had enough votes to both pass the legislation and to override a Thompson veto.

During debate, a few lawmakers said it was unfair to pass an increase in a "lame duck" session (one held after an election but before the new legislators have taken their seats).

Sen. Mark Rhoads, R-Western Springs, said he would push for a ban on lame duck raises in the next session.

However, part of the motivation for the speed of the raise bill was the constitutional ban on lawmakers and other top officials receiving a pay increase during the term in which it is enacted.

If the bill had not been passed before the new legislature took office in January, legislators would not have been eligible for raises until 1981.

Supporters said state salaries have not kept pace with inflation.

"I think the $8,000 figure we have here is a reasonable, fair, cost-of-living increase for members of the General Assembly, as well as for certain other state officials," said co-sponsor Sen. Don Moore, R-Michollian.

Thompson has said in the past that elected officials and, particularly, appointed administrators deserve pay raises.

But this spring he promised to veto any pay increase this year, citing the state's fiscal problems and public opposition.

He kept his pledge Wednesday, but he also cooperated with proponents' efforts to whisk the bill through the General Assembly.

Both houses first passed the raises within an hour of each other Wednesday afternoon; the Senate by a 37-22 vote and the House by 112-57.

Then, in what veteran Statehouse observers said was an unprecedented procedure, Thompson acted on the bill from Kiahwah Island, South Carolina, where he is on a working vacation after attending a Republican governors' conference earlier this week.

From there, he dictated a two-sentence veto message citing his earlier veto pledge, signing the message via an automatic pen.

Thompson could have taken up to 60 days to act on the measure. He was not immediately available to explain why he didn't seek extra time to lobby against the raises.

However, Thompson's top legislative aide, Zale Glauberman, argued the override was a foregone conclusion.

"The governor has returned other bills the same day he vetoed them," Glauberman said. "Everybody in there knew what he (the governor) was going to do before they cast their votes."

A Republican legislator's comment expressed another view of the governor's action: "He wanted his raise like everybody else."

The override votes in both houses were nearly identical to those original passage — 110-58 in the House and 37-21 in the Senate.

The previous $20,000-per-year salary of Illinois legislators apparently was fourth highest in the nation, and an informal survey indicates the new $28,000 annual salary leapfrogged the Illinois General Assembly into first place.

California lawmakers will receive $25,555 a year starting in January, and New York legislators now get $23,500. Michigan pays its lawmakers $24,000.

Most other states do not even reach the $20,000 category.

Thompson will be paid less than governors in at least five other states.

Nineteen senators in the middle of their terms will not be eligible for the raises for two more years. However, the 40 elected Nov. 7 will receive their increases in January, as will all House members.

CB clubs form council

A new central council for citizens band radio clubs currently is being formed and any local or area club is invited to send one or two representatives to an organizational meeting Saturday, Dec. 9, it was announced today.

The meeting will take place at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 9 in the meeting room at Sambo's Restaurant, 3995 Nameoki Road.

Jerry Townsend is serving as temporary chairman during the council's formation period. Mrs. Townsend is treasurer of the Flip-perails CB Club and entertainment chairman for the Illinois Free Spirits REACT CB Club.

The name selected for the new central organization is Metro-East Council of CB Clubs. Nine clubs already have agreed to become part of the council.

Preliminary drafts of a formal charter and bylaws will be the principal business at the Dec. 9 meeting, Mrs. Townsend said.

Among the objectives of the council will be to coordinate various benefit events to avoid duplication, and to help and support each other's activities.

Area CB clubs joining the council so far include:

The Free Spirits, Flipperails and Mouth clubs of the Quad-Cities; Golden Eagles of Venice-Madison; the Armadillo group of Granite City, which also is affiliated with a national organization.

Illinois "Junny Bunnies from the Collinsville area; Illinois Sandbaggers, Edwardsville, Alton and Collinsville areas; Trouble Shooters of Wood River — Alton; and the Bi-State Rachel Jaws of St. Louis.

Burns cafeteria moving to Edison

Bill Burns Cafeteria, 1218 Nineteenth St., which has been open in Granite City for 33 years by C.W. "Bill" Burns, will be moving at the end of January to 1920 Edison Ave., currently operated by Champion's Potpourri and the former Democratic and Republican election headquarters.

Burns announced that the present restaurant will remain open until the new facilities are completed across from the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, which he leases to Burns.

Burns said, "We are happy to be able to relocate downtown. Every effort will be made to make this cafeteria the greatest and provide all with our best service."

The new location will provide us with a better designed building and a larger dining area, plus private rooms for group meetings," Burns said.

He noted that the plans are to put the restaurant into a 25 by 110-foot area.

GC seniors to help decorate holiday tree

A 13-foot-tall Christmas tree with long boughs will be erected at 9 a.m. Wednesday in the auditorium of the Granite City Township Building, 3020 Delmar Ave.

All senior citizens in Granite City are being invited to go to the township building for a decorating party that day.

"We need lots of help to decorate the huge, bushy tree," GC Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer said.

On Tuesday, also starting at 9 a.m., senior citizens will bring popcorn and refreshments as garlands for the tree.

Those wishing to participate in the pre-decorating session are invited to join in, Hagnauer said.

The tree is being put up at an early time to afford maximum pleasure to all groups using the township auditorium during the pre-holiday season.

Special music interludes are planned at lunchtime on various days during the next few weeks at the township center.

Confirmation has been received from Granite City High School North, whose choir will perform at 12:15 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 7, and from the 21-member girls' choir of Grigsby Junior High School, whose appearance is set for Wednesday, Dec. 13, also at 12:15 p.m.

How to make holiday gifts arrive safely

Some last-minute packaging pointers to make sure "your Christmas Gifts enjoy a safe trip to their destination" were issued today by postmasters of the Quad-City area.

"Poorly wrapped packages may be turned back to the sender at the post office, and the window clerk will point out the deficiencies and suggest how they may be corrected," a statement by the postmasters said.

But to make sure the parcels are properly wrapped in the first place to avoid delay and inconvenience, they said, here are some suggestions:

The best protection is a cardboard container with enough cushions inside to keep the contents from shifting and to protect them from bumps. Usually, if the box is strong enough, an outer wrapper isn't needed. If you do use a wrapper, it should be at least as strong as a large grocery bag.

Cord or string are not recommended. Best for closing and reinforcing the parcel is self-sticking filament-reinforced tape.

As an added precaution, include both destination and return addresses inside the parcel. Make sure the address on the outside is legible and complete with zip code, and that there is sufficient postage.

Packages with easily broken contents should be marked fragile; foods should be marked perishable.

Complete details are in a free "Packaging Pointers" pamphlet available at the post offices.

Don't test auto plate stickers

If you're getting ready to put your new multi-year license plates on your car, here's some advice from the secretary of state's office.

Don't test the adhesion of the new license plate stickers by applying them first to your refrigerator — unless, of course, you plan to drive the refrigerator.

License plates for 1979, the first year of Illinois' new multi-year car registration system, may legally be displayed.

There's been relatively little confusion about the new procedures, which inaugurate a staggered system of license plate issuance, according to program coordinator Gary Hall. But there have been some surprises.

"People have not been believing what we've been telling them about the stickers not coming off once they're applied," he says. "We've had them try stickers out on their countertops or on refrigerators. Of course, then they lose the stickers."

"New stickers cost $3 in such cases."

"They're free if the secretary of state's office forgets to enclose one with your license plate in the first place, but you have to submit a notarized affidavit saying so."

When you receive your license, the sticker should be in a plastic bag on the back of your registration certificate, which is enclosed in a separate pocket of the larger license plate envelope.

Instructions for placing the sticker on your plates are on the plastic bag.

The sticker should be applied to your car's rear license plate. But its precise location on the plate depends on how you decide to make the switch to staggered registration.

The secretary of state's office offers car owners two choices in phasing in staggered registration: "long option" and "short option" plans.

The short option is cheaper. The sticker should have to buy another sticker in 1979. Car owners who pick the long option basically will be phased into the new system in one step and won't need a new sticker until 1980.

Over the long run, drivers will pay the same total fees under both options.

But the option you've chosen determines both the color of the sticker you receive and its placement on your new license plate.

A short-option driver will be sent a blue sticker this year, which goes in the upper left corner of the Funds for graduate students

The Graduate School at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is seeking applicants for a number of graduate awards available for students of high academic ability, according to David Brown, assistant dean of the Graduate School.

Two types of awards are available. The first is made on a competitive academic basis to degree-seeking graduate students with an overall 4.3 (A is 5.0) or better undergraduate average.

The intent is to recognize and encourage those who have shown outstanding potential as revealed through past academic records, letters of recommendation and evidence of outstanding achievement," Brown said.

The second award is made on a competitive basis to degree-seeking graduate students who demonstrate financial need and academic promise.

For this award, special consideration is given to applicants with minority status and to residents of the Madison-St. Clair counties area.

Foreign students on student visas are not eligible for this type of award. Students in off-campus programs and nonclassical students also are not considered for the awards.

"Both types of awards include tax-free stipends of $3,015 for the nine-month academic year, as well as remission of tuition and some fees," Brown said.

Recipients must be fully admitted as classified graduate students to specific degree programs, carry a minimum of 12 hours of graduate credit each quarter, and maintain the required minimum grade-point average.

Awards are not renewable and the students cannot accept university employment during the award period."

Application forms for the 1979-80 academic year will be available in the Graduate School Office (Rendleman 2215) starting this month. Completed applications are to be returned by the applicants directly to the Graduate School no later than March 1, 1979.

New disco dance classes

A new series of disco dance classes for youngsters will be offered at the Tri-City Area YMCA starting Dec. 9. The Disco 1 (beginner) class will be conducted from 10 to 11 a.m.

The Disco 2 classes will be conducted from 11 a.m. to 12 noon. All classes will be held in the "Y" auditorium.

The age group will be 7-year-olds. Anyone older may sign up for regular Wednesday or Sunday classes.

A minimum of 10 and a maximum of 20 will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Cost of the five-hour lessons is $9 for members and $12 for non-members.

Dale Gregory will be instructing the class for five consecutive Saturdays. Pre-registration may be obtained by calling the "Y" at 876-7200.

High country pack theme

"High Country" was the theme for the November meeting of Cub Pack 28 sponsored by Parkway School PTA, held Tuesday night at the school.

Cubmaster Dale Ashmore opened the session and members of Den Six presented the colors.

In keeping with the theme each den displayed exhibits relating to the subject and a boy from each den explained the program they were involved in this month. They also described other projects and field trips they participated in during the fall session.

Perfect attendance awards were presented to David Baker, Charles LaVelle, Jim Morgan, Todd Prokes, Kirk Sine, Jay Valbert, Scott Wilson, Derek Martin, Robert Orescovich, Tim and Jamie Hogan, David Marti, Michael Zolnowski, Eddie Melton, Scott Roth and David Maxwell.

Webelo awards were given to John Lewis who received the athlete, citizenship, sportsman and Webelo badge; Scott Lewis, Bobcat badge and athlete award; Mike Massman and Mark Arnold both earned athlete, sportsman, artist and Webelo badge; Randy Fountain, Jim Poudas and Rick Cain, the athlete award; Chris Ashmore and Tim Mantell the athlete and sportsman award.
